

Calvert Artists' Guild Workshop

Approaches to Figure Drawing with Dr. Jay Anderson

We will take a look at the way various artists link geometric shapes to 'construct' the human form. Our group will examine how proportionality can be calculated, then mapped out with an array of sketching techniques.

We seek to create a relaxed, yet informative atmosphere appropriate for all stages of one's artistic development. Typically, these workshops become interactive as participants find themselves relaxing and experiencing "fun" in the process.

Jay grew up on the West Coast, moved to rugged, rural Colorado, traveled the world repeatedly, and now lives in southern Maryland. An artist, writer, photographer, and educator, his other abiding passion is exploring the relationship between Image-Based Learning, Semiotics, and Visual Arts Education.

Jay is the author of four books, 'The Oath', 'Where Tour Buses Won't Go', 'Threadbare Tales from Silk Road' and his latest, "Leavenworth Lifers Prison Baseball Organization." Visit his website at jayandersonphd.com
